When using these computers, individuals are required to do so in a responsible manner that respects the rights and privacy of others. Any use of the Internet which violates local, provincial, or federal laws including the Criminal Code and Copyright Act, or creates a hostile environment for others, is prohibited on all library computers.
Assumption of Risk	Use of the library's Internet service and wireless network is entirely at the risk of the user. The library is not responsible for any damage to personal devices, loss of data, loss of confidential information or any other damages that may occur while using the library's Internet service or wireless network. The library makes no warranty that Internet content will be accurate, reliable or safe for download or any other purpose.

Personal Information Banks

Purpose The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FOIP) requires that all public bodies make a list of Personal Information Banks (PIBs) available to the public for inspection and copying. - The purpose for which the personal information is collected or compiled and the purposes for which it is used or disclosed.

Collecting Personal Information A library may collect the personal information it needs to verify identity. A library should consider whether it needs to keep a copy of the information, such as when verifying mailing address. It is sufficient to note that a library staff member saw the identification and verified contact information.

Confidentiality As PIBs contain personal information, Parkland Regional Library's Confidentiality of User Records Policy and Records Management Policy must be abided by with respect to PIBs.

Selection, Acquisition and Disposition of Materials

Purpose To provide guidelines for the selection, acquisition and disposition of library resources including gifts and donations.

Statement on Intellectual Freedom The Parkland Library Board affirms the Canadian Library Association's "Statement on Intellectual Freedom" which reads:

All persons in Canada have the fundamental right, as embodied in the nation's Bill of Rights and the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms, to have access to all expressions of knowledge, creativity and intellectual activity, and to express their thoughts publicly. This right to intellectual freedom, under the law, is essential to the health and development of Canadian society.

Libraries have a basic responsibility for the development and maintenance of intellectual freedom.

It is the responsibility of libraries to guarantee and facilitate access to all expressions of knowledge and intellectual activity, including those which some elements of society may consider to be unconventional, unpopular or unacceptable. To this end, libraries shall acquire and make available the widest variety of materials.

It is the responsibility of libraries to guarantee the right of free expression by making available all the library's public facilities and services to all individuals and groups who need them.

Libraries should resist all efforts to limit the exercise of these responsibilities while recognizing the right of criticism by individuals and groups.

Employees, volunteers, and employers in libraries have a duty, in addition to their institutional responsibilities, to uphold these principles.

*Approved by CLA Executive Council June 27, 1974;
Amended November 17, 1983; November 18, 1985*

Selection of Materials The Local library manager is responsible for overseeing the selection of materials, following this policy. The library manager encourages input from community members and library staff.

The library recognizes its obligation to provide a balanced collection that is responsive to the needs of the local community and surrounding area. In selecting materials, library managers will seek to satisfy the recreational, cultural, informational and educational needs of the community.

Selection decisions pertaining to all materials are based upon the following criteria:

- favourable attention from reviewers, critics or the public (award winners or inclusion in bibliographies)
- member demand and anticipated demand
- relationship to the library's existing collection,
- relevant to community needs and interests,
- contains accurate information and objective opinion,
- authority, reputation or qualifications of the author, illustrator, publisher or producer,
- literary merit and contribution to the field of knowledge
- representation of diverse points of view
- suitable format for library use,
- suitable subject and style for the intended audience
- purchase price and other budgetary considerations, as well as physical space allowances,
- language – materials in languages other than English or French will not normally be purchased.

Collection items do not have to meet all selection criteria to be acceptable. The presence of a book, periodical or other material, regardless of its format, in the library does not indicate an endorsement of its content.

Censorship

The Parkland Library Board, as the governing board, does not interpret its function or that of its administrators to be the supervisor of public morals. It believes in freedom of the individual and the rights and obligations of parents to develop, interpret and enforce their own code of acceptable conduct and choice of reading materials upon their own household.

There is a possibility that an item, or items, may be regarded by some as unpleasant or offensive, or in political opposition to local beliefs. If the public library is to fulfill its obligation to its community, it must include materials of varied points of view, even those which may be regarded by some as controversial. The library will, as far as possible, collect materials on all sides of controversial issues, including representation of unpopular or unorthodox positions without censorship or bias, providing the materials give evidence of a sincere desire to be factual.

Objections to Library Materials

Unless an item is officially prohibited from entering the province it cannot be legally withdrawn from the library shelves. If an individual objects very strongly to a particular item they will have the right to make an official complaint. All objections will be considered carefully after the patron completes a Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials form provided by the library (appended to this policy).

Requests for reconsideration will be dealt with on an individual basis. No material will be removed from the shelf without the approval of a majority vote of the Parkland Library Board.

Each request for reconsideration will be dealt with in the following manner:

- The Library Manager will ensure the patron is informed of the review procedure.
- The patron will complete a Request for Reconsideration of Library Materials form.
- Completed forms along with a copy of the work will be passed on to the library's Parkland Regional Library consultant, who will review the material and pass it on with comments to the Director or their designate.
- All requests for reconsideration will go to the Parkland Regional Library Executive Committee for review.
- If the concern cannot be satisfactorily dealt with through this process, the complainant must submit a letter requesting further consideration to the Parkland Library Board.
- Since Parkland Library Board meetings are public, the complainant's name cannot be confidential. The patron's contact information will, however, remain confidential.

Personnel Policy

Purpose The Parkland Library Board recognizes that providing library staff for library service points is the responsibility of the Local Society. This policy applies to both employees and volunteers.

This policy is intended to provide clearly understood guidelines and expectations related to the working conditions for library staff in service points (outlets).

Employment Standards Where this policy is silent, Alberta's Employment Standards Code and Regulation will be followed as mandated by law.

Recruitment, Continuing Education, Appraisal, Wages

Recruitment Parkland Regional Library upholds the principle of selecting the most qualified and suitable candidate to fill positions that become available. The system supports fair employment practices consistent with legislation. The Chair of the Local Society (or designate) is responsible for hiring the library manager. The library manager will be responsible for hiring additional employees and volunteers. Library staff may include a library manager, general library assistants, support people such as janitorial staff and others as needed.

Appointment A written offer specifying terms of the appointment shall be given to an individual beginning work in an outlet library with an appropriate job description. Employment or a volunteer appointment is conditional on acceptance of the terms contained. See sample offer letter in the appendix to this section.

Orientation & Continuing Education The Chair of the Local Society (or designate) or the Library Manager will give new staff an orientation of the library including an overview of the outlet library's mission, goals and objectives, services and organization. New library staff should also be provided with an orientation package as outlined in the Orientation and Continuing Education policy.

Probationary Period Each newly hired staff member should serve a probationary period of three months in compliance with Employment Standards legislation.

When a staff member has completed their probation successfully, they will receive a letter confirming that the probationary period has ended.

Performance Appraisals Supervisors and staff members are strongly encouraged to discuss job performance and goals informally in an ongoing dialogue throughout the year. This dialogue will allow team members to discuss job tasks and procedures, encourage and recognize strengths, identify and correct weaknesses and discuss positive, purposeful approaches for meeting goals.

A formal performance appraisal of each staff member's performance should be conducted at the end of their first three months of work at the library and annually after that, at a time agreed upon by the Local Society and Library Manager (either on the work anniversary or during the first month of each year).

The appraisal should take into account the staff member's ability to perform the tasks listed in the job description and the completion of any goals set. The appraisal process should also include a review of the incumbent's job description for possible changes.

A copy of the signed performance appraisal form should be placed in the individual's confidential personnel file.

Sample performance appraisals are located in the appendix to this section.

Wages and Salaries The Local Society is responsible for setting the wage or salary for paid employees. Employees should be paid no less than the current minimum wage as set by the Employment Standards Regulation.

Payroll Deductions It is the responsibility of the Local Society to ensure that payroll deductions required by law, including Income Tax, Canada Pension and Unemployment Insurance are taken from each pay cheque and remitted appropriately.

Time Keeping and Leave

Recording of Time Worked Library staff, in consultation with the Local Society, must record the time worked by filling out a time sheet, or using an agreed upon time log. It is the responsibility of the Local Society to ensure these records are appropriately maintained. Absences should be recorded and copies of the time log retained as per the records retention policy.

Overtime Agreement Overtime is not paid for hours worked beyond the normal schedule. Time off will be provided in lieu of overtime pay. This time shall be taken in compliance with Alberta's Employment Standards legislation.

Attendance Recognizing the importance of having regular and reliable hours of operation to meet the needs of community members, staff members are expected to be prompt and regular in their attendance.

Library staff who are unable to report to work on time because of circumstances beyond their control, including illness, are expected to notify the Library manager or the Chair of the Local Society (or designate) at least one (1) hour prior to the start of the scheduled shift.

When a staff member is returning to work after an illness of over three working days, a medical note from a doctor may be required.

An absence of three consecutive work days, without contacting the individual designated to authorize absences, shall be considered justification for termination, unless it is subsequently shown by the staff member that special circumstances prevented them from reporting to work.

Sick Leave	Sick leave means the period of time a staff member is absent from work due to illness, disability, exposure to a contagious disease, being under the treatment of a physician, chiropractor or dentist, or because of an accident. The granting of paid sick leave to employees shall be at the discretion of the Local Society.
Compassionate Leave	A staff member shall be entitled to up to three working days of compassionate leave on the death of a relative, including a spouse or child, parent, sibling, grandparent, great grandparent, grandchild (including step relatives and in-laws). Where the library will be closed on a general holiday that falls on a day the library would normally be open, notice of the closing shall be provided in advance to Parkland Staff and to the local community.
Vacation	Vacations shall be granted in accordance with the Employment Standards Code . Where there is no one to cover a period of vacation, the library will be closed and notice of the closure will be provided in advance to Parkland Staff and to the local community.

Library Managers not performing to the specifics of their position will meet with the Chair of the Local Society (or designate) and one other impartial member of the Local Society. This meeting will attempt to identify the problems, find ways to improve the situation and suggest adequate solutions, concluding with a recommended course of action and an appropriate time frame in which the staff member will be expected to improve to the satisfaction of the Local Society. Details of the

Grievance and Complaint
Procedure

A grievance is defined as any difference arising out of the interpretation, application, administration or alleged violation of any policy affecting library staff. Grievance is a term with legal meaning, and must be dealt with as per the procedure mandated below.

Complaints differ from grievances and may result from any condition of employment that the staff member feels is unjust or inequitable. A complaint may be brought to the attention of the Chair of the Local Society (or designate) at any time and informally.

This procedure ensures that an effort is made to settle grievances in a fair and expeditious manner. A staff member with a grievance in regard to the interpretation of this policy will resolve it through the following procedure:

1. The grievor will present their grievance in writing with full detail to the Chair of the Local Society (or designate) within seven (7) calendar days from the day the incident comes to the attention of the staff member. The grievance must include the following information:
 - a. Name(s) of the aggrieved;
 - b. Nature of the grievance and the circumstances out of which it arose;
 - c. The remedy or correction the employer is asked to make.
2. Upon receipt of a written grievance, the Chair of the Local Society (or designate) will review the grievance, make a decision whether the remedy or correction requested is appropriate given the circumstances and respond in writing to the staff member within seven(7) calendar days of the receipt of the grievance.
3. If the grievor is not satisfied with the response of the Chair of the Local Society, they may appeal directly to membership of the Local Society. The decision of the membership of the Local Society must be returned within thirty (30) working days.
 - a. The decision of the Local Society is final.
 - b. Whenever a grievance or complaint is lodged by a staff member at a Parkland Regional Library outlet, PRL's Director (or their designate) must be informed as soon as possible after the grievance or complaint is received by the Local Society. PRL is to be kept informed by the Local Society throughout the grievance or complaint process through its conclusion.

If the Chair of the Local Society fails to comply with these procedures, the grievance may be submitted to the membership of the Local Society by the grievor.

If the grievor fails to comply with the procedures, the grievance shall be considered abandoned. An abandoned grievance will not prejudice staff members in any future grievance of a similar nature.

Accident Reporting The Local Society is required to have workers' compensation insurance for workers, both paid and unpaid. Not-for-profit volunteers can be covered through a special request to the Workers' Compensation Board. The Local Society and all library staff are expected to conform to Workers' Compensation Board (W.C.B.) Regulations regarding accident reporting.

When a staff member suffers an injury of any kind, they shall seek first aid assistance or medical treatment if necessary. The staff member shall then immediately report it to the Library Manager (where applicable) or Chair of the Local Society, who will complete the necessary Workers' Compensation report and file it according to the requirements. The Director of Parkland Regional Library should be notified of all W.C.B. reports.

It is the Chair of the Local Society's responsibility to see that the employer and employee (or volunteer) W.C.B. Accident Reports are submitted to the W.C.B. within 72 hours of the time that the accident is reported to ensure prompt action from the Workers' Compensation Board. All further W.C.B. communications will be managed by the Chair of the Local Society or the Library Manager as appropriate.

Working Alone Policy

Purpose To ensure Local Societies assess the workplace and take measures to minimize risks when staff members are working alone. To ensure individuals working alone have a way to communicate with persons capable of responding to an emergency situation. To ensure library staff and members of the Local Society understand and meet their obligations under this policy and Alberta's Occupational Health and Safety legislation.

Hazard Assessment Each Local Society must conduct a hazard assessment at their library identifying existing and potential hazards. Local Societies shall involve affected workers in conducting the assessment. A report should be prepared outlining methods used to control or eliminate identified hazards.

The hazard assessment shall be reviewed on an annual basis and repeated whenever work processes change, the worksite is altered significantly or if the reporting system is found not effective.

Hazard Control Following from the hazard assessment being conducted, each Local Society shall implement practices and procedures to eliminate or control hazards. Controls previously identified include:

- Individuals working alone outside of library hours must keep all doors into the library locked.
- The library should be arranged to provide adequate sightlines throughout. Workers should be aware of individuals entering and moving about the library (including use of washroom facilities).
- At closing time workers are to make sure all patrons have left the premises and the building is locked and secure.
- Float monies should be kept to a minimum in cash drawer and the balance stored in a second secured location.
- A list of emergency numbers (e.g. police, ambulance, fire department, Local Society Chair) shall be posted where visible.
- Checks must be made to ensure outside lights are working properly.
- The Local Society shall ensure any worker required to drive on library business is equipped with a working mobile phone, an auto emergency kit and a first aid kit.
- If a worker has reason to believe it is not safe to leave the building, they should contact a designated person to escort them from the library or call local law enforcement.
- If a worker believes that it is safe to confront an offending individual they should do so with a telephone in hand and if possible, a contact already on the line.

- In any situation involving suspicious or threatening individuals where there is a potential for violence, workers shall put their own safety first by calling for assistance or fleeing where necessary.
- Workers leaving the premises for their own safety or to obtain assistance shall ensure other patrons also leave the building.
- Individuals encountering any unsafe situation while working alone shall alert the chairperson or designated alternate of the Local Society and, if necessary, local law enforcement or other emergency service as appropriate.
- Workers shall report to the Chair of the Local Society and the Director of Parkland Regional Library (or their designate) any serious situation which occurs while the individual is working alone.

Communication The Local Society shall develop a Working Alone Plan that provides for an effective communication system between the worker and persons capable of assisting in an emergency, illness or injury. The Plan shall also establish a procedure for communications when traveling.

The Plan shall include a designated contact person responsible for ensuring contact with library staff at predetermined intervals, no less than every four hours. There shall be a process for recording that communication.

Training The chairperson of the Local Society, or their designate, shall review this policy during worker orientation, ensuring the worker is aware of the hazards of working alone and procedures meant to control hazards. Copies of this policy and Working Alone Plan shall be available to workers.

Review Workers shall inform the chair of the Local Society of any safety concerns they may have. Concerns deemed significant should be reported to the Director of Parkland Regional Library (or their designate) as soon as possible.

This policy constitutes a minimum Working Alone Policy. A Local Society may institute additional reasonable procedures and controls with the approval of the Parkland Library Board's Director.
